FINLAND

After falling in 2011 and 2012, the number of new complaints made against Finland increased in 2013 and 2014. However, new EU Pilot files opened against Finland showed a clear decline in 2014 after rising for three consecutive years. The number of pending infringement cases has fallen each year since 2011, while new infringement cases for late transposition held steady at less than one third of their 2011 peak.
